A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS His Majesty has been pleased to signify His Royal Pleasure, by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, That in case the Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Land Forces in America, should send to me for any Number of Men for Recruits, or for any other Service, that I should endeavour to raise them accordingly, and take care that they be transported to such Place and at such Time as shall be appointed. FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

LONDON, June 29.

THEY write from the Austrian Camp at Buhlau in Silesia, that the 23d of June N. S. they receiv'd Advice early in the Morning, that a Detachment of 1000 Prussians, or 3000, according to some, with 6 Field Pieces, had advanced as far as Grotkau, & were actually engaged with the Austrian Hussars: They can't tell us what the issue of the Engagement was, but they add, that a Waggon full of Prisoners had already been brought into Neiss, and that a Prussian Captain with a Lieutenant and 12 Soldiers had likewise been carried into Grotkau, all dangerously wounded.

By Letters from Vienna we hear, that they have received a Courier from Hanover, with the King of Prussia's Answer to the Memorial of the Maritime Powers about the Affair of Silesia; that a grand Council was call'd on this Affair, at the issue of which the same Courier was sent back with some Proposals which they hope will facilitate an Accommodation between the Courts of Berlin and Vienna. They add, that they expect to see the Bavarian Troops speedily in the Field, the Elector having issued the first Orders for several Regiments to hold themselves in readiness to march.

From

From Ratisbon they write, that they have received Advices from several Places, importing that the Court of France has demanded of the Circle of Swabia a free Passage for a Body of Troops which the French King is to send to the Elector of Bavaria, in pursuance of late Treaties; and assured at the same Time, that those Troops shall pay ready Money for every thing they want, and observe the strictest Discipline.

From Ratisbon we have a Confirmation, that the Bavarian Troops are in Motion, but they cannot tell what Route they are to take. They add, that Count Montijo, has protested in the Name of the King of Spain, against the Queen of Hungary's Coronation.

From Manheim they write, that the French Troops on the Frontiers have received Orders to move out of their Quarters, and that it is strongly reported that Part of them are to encamp on the Moselle, and the rest to march towards the Rhine.

Letters from Petersburgh say, that Mr. Nolcken, the Swedish Minister, is preparing to set out for Stockholm, pursuant to the Orders he has received: That the Swedish Fleet, consisting of 50 Sail, is still cruizing between the Coast of Livonia and Finland: That 3000 Russian Troops have embarked at Cronstadt, under the Command of Lieutenant General Stoffel, and that the Russian Court has added a Captain, two Lieutenants, and two Ensigns, to every Company of Grenadiers.

According to our Advices from the Austrian Camp in Silesia, the Prussian Army has made another Movement, and drawn nearer to Neiss: And the Pandours or Rascians, have had another Brush with the Prussians, wherein the latter were totally defeated, and lost 14 Waggons laden with Provisions, &c.

July 2. Letters of the 19th ult. from Hanover say, that an Express is arrived there from the King of Sardinia, to assure his Majesty of his firm Resolution not to favour any Enterprizes or Projects that may be form'd to the Prejudice of the Tranquility of Italy.

We hear from Lynn, by Way of Cambridge, that on Wednesday last Mrs. Rudeskin, Wife of Mr. Rudeskin, a Grocer of that Town, was deliver'd of two Sons and two Daughters, all likely to live; that they were the next Day baptiz'd, by the Rev. Dr. Pyle, by the Names of Abraham, Isaac, Sarah, and Rebecca.

July 4. Letters from private Merchants in Holland inform us, that they had receiv'd certain Advice from France, that the French Squadron was sail'd from Brest, but where destin'd was a Secret only known to the Court.

By Letters yesterday from Holland, we have an Account, that 20 Sail of Dutch East India Men were arriv'd in the Texel.

July 9. Letters of the 20th ult. O. S. from Vienna, say, they had a Report there, that the Grand Signior had committed the Persian Ambassador to the Seven Towers, and declar'd War against his Master Kouli Kan.

The King of Sardinia's Ambassador receiv'd an Express on the 28th ult. from his Court, with Advice of the Death of Elizabeth Theresa of Lorrain, Queen of Sardinia, in Child-bed, at Turin, on the 22d, in the 29th Year of her Age, being born the 4th of Octob. 1711.

The Firelocks of three Regiments of Foot-Guards, that have been lately chang'd for new ones, are order'd to be cut shorter for Sea Service.

This Morning about 3000 Troops, with their Arms, Ammunition, Bag, and Baggage, marched through this City for the Camp at Colchester.

July 13. By the Dutch East India Company's Ships arriv'd in the Texel from Batavia, &c. there came Advice, That the Chinese who trade to that Country had form'd a Conspiracy to massacre all the Inhabitants of Batavia, and to make themselves Masters of the Island of Java; but that the Plot was discover'd just as it was going to be put in Execution. Among others, they bring the following Particulars.

"The Wretches, reckoning those both in the Town and in the Country, were to the Number of about 90,000, whose Gangs, consisting of 5 or 6000, scowred the Country, and committed great Disorders in it, till at length a Detachment of 800 Men was sent against them, under the Command of Messrs. Imhoff and Van Aarden, who attack'd and dispersed them. Mean time their Accomplices had furnished themselves with wooden Cannon and Ammunition, and they had made Mines. This being discover'd by 5 of those Miscreants, the Guards were doubled.

"On the 8th of October last we heard, that one of the advanc'd Posts was attack'd by the Chinese, who destroyed every Thing they came to with Fire and Sword; whereupon the Government of Batavia immediately forbad the Chinese, who dwelt in the Town, to stir out of Doors, or to burn any Light in the Night-time, on Pain of being put to Death. About 7 a Clock the Rebels set Fire to the Suburbs without the Gate of Utrecht, to draw our Men thither, and to give Time to the Accomplices to act in the Town; but they were disappointed in their Hopes, and the Gentlemen of the Regency undertook the Guard of the Gates themselves.

"At 9 a Clock 40 or 50,000 of the Rebels advanc'd with horrid Shouts, to give the Signal to those that were in the Town; but the latter, such were the prudent Orders given every where, durst not stir: In the mean time, those without committed great Disorders in the Country, but they retired the next Day, and then all the Chinese that were in Town, except the Women and Children, were ordered to be put to the Sword; which was executed accordingly.

"On the 9th, about two in the Morning, the whole City was in Flames; the Chinese, alarm'd at the Fate they were to suffer, having set Fire to their Houses; so that great Part of Batavia is reduc'd to Ashes.

"They hoped, in a short Time, to extirpate the rest of the Rebels, who are retir'd farther into the Country. A Reward of 5000 Rixdollars is promis'd, for whoever shall deliver up either of their two Ringleaders alive, and 1000 to whoever shall kill them; but a general Amnesty is publish'd for all the other Chinese who shall submit themselves before the 22d of November, according to which several Hundred were already come to Batavia.

July 15. Letters of the 26th ult. from Antibes, say, they have Advice by the Master of a Ship arrived in two Days from Marseilles, that Admiral De las Torres was not very far from the Spanish Coast with 14 Men of War, which had on board the Treasure of the Galleons, amounting to 40 Million of Pieces of Eight.

BOSTON, Sept. 21.

We have Advice from New-London, that about a Fortnight ago, the Sloop of War fitted out by the Colony of Connecticut, and commanded by Capt. Philips, returned from a Cruize: The Captain informs, that when he was off the Capes of Virginia, he came up with a Snow commanded by an Irishman, who said he was bound from Virginia to Scotland; but having a great Number of Men on board, and making a warlike Appearance, Capt. Philips suspected her to be a Spanish Privateer, and therefore ordered her (Night coming on) to keep under his Stern till the Morning, when he intended to examine thoroughly what she was; but a violent Storm coming up in the Night, the said Snow was drove ashore and stove to Pieces, and every Man on board (supposed 60 in Number) drowned. Capt. Philips heard them cry out in their Distress, but could give them no Relief, and narrowly escaped the same Fate himself, having then but two Fathom and an half of Water, or three Fathom at the most.

Since the above Article came to Hand, we are told by Persons come in from Sea, that the said Snow was given by the Spaniards to a Number of English Prisoners, to carry them Home, which makes the Account the more melancholy. Last

Last Week Capt. Winslow and Lieutenant Vryling arrived here from our Army on Cuba, by the Way of New-York, to raise Recruits for the American Regiment now in the Camp on Cuba, by Commission from General Wentworth, Commander in Chief of all his Majesty's Land Forces in the West-Indies.

Extract of a Letter from on board his Majesty's Ship Oxford in the Harbour of Cumberland, at the Island of Cuba, dated August 5. 1741.

WE are now in the finest Harbour that ever I saw, called by the Spaniards Mantetinam Harbour, now named by Admiral Vernon, Cumberland; and as for the Country, as far as I can see or hear of, 'tis a Pleasant Island, far exceeding all the West Indies that I have been in. We are now in Possession of a small Town named St. Catelena, about 20 Miles off, where they found a great many Cattle, Goods and Horses, &c. 'Tis said the General intends a Troop of Horse.-- I hope the next Step will be to March for the great and famous City of St Jago, being 50 Miles further; where in that or a better City, hope to give you a more agreeable Account, but this will fully answer for Carthagena, if we take it. Yesterday the Worcester (who sail'd 8 Days since) returned from her Cruize, and brought in with her a Spanish Man of War of 24 Guns and 250 Men, from St. Sebastian, bound to La vera Cruz, with Letters. She took in our Channel a few Months since 13 Sail, 3 of which were Turkey Men. We have the Priest and Doctor, with 20 Men on board our Ship, brought this Day to abide with us. We seem to lie on our Oars as yet.---I have a Company of Marines on board. I have 60 of my own Company left alive, and hope and doubt not to lead them up by the Sun before six Months are expired, unless it proves an universal War, as I assure you by what we can learn here, 'tis fear'd will be.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in the Army, dated

GUBA, August 8th, 1741.

...." I wrote you a few Days since, via Jamaica, in which I gave you an Account, when got here, when we landed, &c. Since which, Part of our Forces to the Number of 400 have march'd about twenty Miles from the Place where we now are, called by the Spaniards Mantchinham, in English Wallingham, now called Cumberland by the Admiral, the finest I ever saw, to a Town called St. Catellania, and taken it, with a very great Number of Cattle, Goats and Horses; and soon expect to march up there with the whole Body of the Forces, to encamp there; from which I hope we shall soon march towards the famous City of St Jago de Cuba, 70 Miles off: This I hope, before we have done, will make up for the Disappointment we met with in attacking Carthagena, where our Forces suffer'd very much, not so much from the Assaults, but on Account for want of Water: However the Spaniards paid dear enough for it, for we demolish'd all their Forts (except St. Lazarus) and left not one Gun fit for Service, and the Spaniards lost 5000 Men; but we are now, thank God, in a Place as healthy as Man can wish: we have no want of good Beef, Cabaritas, wild Hogs, Indian Corn in abundance; Water plenty and pure, as good as any I have seen amongst us: Our Men (which before were sickly) in the little Time we have been here, gather Strength and Vigour daily; and I wish all our old Friends would rigg out and make the best of their way here, for I make no doubt but we shall in a very short Time have quiet Possession of the whole Place, and then first come, first serv'd; now or never for a Plantation on the Island of Cuba, which is worth living upon. Admiral Vernon and Admiral Ogle, in two Eighty Gun Ships with four Seventy Gun Ships lye moor'd in this Harbour; and most of the Sixty Gun Ships and smaller Vessels are out a cruising: The Worchester Man of War came in four Days since: and brought in a Spanish Man of War of 24 Guns and 250 Men, bound to La Vera Cruz from St. Sebastians, as the beginning: I hope the matter will soon be settled. It is my Opinion that this Island will soon be in our Hands: There is a talk that the Admiral designs to publish Manifestoes, to induce the Inhabitants to become Subjects to the English Crown; but whether true I cannot tell: As for my Part am very indifferent whether they tamely submit or not. As far as I can judge by the Disposition of Sailors and Land Men, we shall have no great Difficulty in making our selves Masters of it. It's a beautiful Island, and I hope to have a good Plantation of my own. My Service to all Friends, Yours, G. O.

N. B. I'll send you some Limes if Opportunity presents.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman on board the Boyne in the Harbour of Waltanama (now Cumberland) dated Aug. 21. 1741.

WE enjoy a great share of Health at this Time, not only in the Fleet but Army. We are at a Place called Waltanama, on the South Side of Cuba and to the Eastward of St. Jago about 18 Leagues. The Troops are encamped; whether they intend to march farther is a secret. We have 9 Men of War in the Harbour, the rest are cleaning in Jamaica, and on several Cruises, in which they meet with great success, having brought in within these three Months, Registers, and Ships with Stores, of the Spaniards, worth upwards of One Hundred Thousand Pounds Sterling, and a Week ago a Man of War bound to the Havanna of 24 Guns, and 220 Men, and we hope to see some others soon, which we have the Scent of, and have some Ships in their way; and so it is, that we generally know of their getting to Sea, and very few escape in our Circle. I can't omit telling you one Piece of News, melancholy, tho' even to an Enemy, which is a sickness that has been little inferior to a Plague in Carthagena since we left it, which swept off upwards of 4000 People in seven weeks, which is nothing but a common Consequence of great Fatigue in these Climates, and scarcely ever happens otherwise. The Spanish Men of War keep close to the Havanna, and the Misfortune is, there's no getting at them without a Land Force.

N. B. The Spanish Man of War mentioned above, is called the Arrenzazu, and is the same which did so much Mischief off the Lizard in the Spring, and that took the two Turkey Men. The King bought her on the Credit of her sailing.

It is agreed by all, that both our Army and Fleet are finely situated at their new Station: The Harbour is large and commodious, at the Mouth of which the largest Men of War are anchored, and the rest are kept cruising upon the Enemy. From the Harbour there is a fine Fresh Water River, that runs a great Way into the Country, navigable for Ships of 400 Tons at least 20 Miles (where our Transports lie) and some of the Boats have been 60 Miles up it. At the Entrance of this River they are building a strong Fort, to protect the Shipping in it, and the Settlements intended to be made near it, Our Army, which consists of between 4 or 5000 effective Men, is encamped 20 Miles up the said River, where they have plenty of fresh Provisions, and the Camp is well fortified with Cannon, &c. 'Tis said the General had sent to Jamaica for all the Soldiers left there, whether sick or well, with all the Provisions and Stores of War, and they were in daily Expectation of eight Regiments from England.

Last Friday Evening our Privateer Sloop Young Eagle, formerly commanded by Capt. Dumaresq; arrived here from Gibraltar, but last from Madeira. She is allow'd to be the best fitted for War, of any Privateer ever seen before in these Parts. 'Tis said she mounts 14 Carriage and 32 Swivel Guns, and has taken 16 Prizes since she sail'd from hence, some of which we hear were of great Value.
